

Frankston Library Service

PC & Internet Conditions of Use

Effective: 13th January 2008

The library's public access computers are available for use by members of the Frankston Library Service and visitors to Frankston City who agree to abide by the conditions of use below:

- PC Users are required to book time to use the computers and abide by the time limit of the booking.
- Your Frankston Library Service membership number must be given to book a computer. Bookings can be made in person or by telephone.
- The responsibility for acceptable use of the internet by users under 18 years old rests with parents/guardians.
- Internet use must meet general community standards and users must not deliberately access illegal, inappropriate or restricted material.
- PC Users are not permitted to load software onto library computers.
- PC users should be self-sufficient when using the PCs/Internet, only limited trouble shooting can be provided by library staff.
- Centralised printing facilities are available.
- Floppy disks, optical discs and USB micro drives may be used.
- PC users are responsible for copyright compliance.
- The Express computers have a 20 minute time limit and do not require booking.
- When accessing audio, earphones must be used for private listening.
- Failure to abide by these conditions of use may result in access to library computers being suspended.
- Use of the computers may be monitored at any time.
- Library membership cards are not transferable for purposes of computer use.

Bookings

- Internet PCs can be booked for a maximum of two hours per day.
- Bookings can be made for the current day or up to one week ahead.
- If a booking is no longer required, please cancel as soon as possible.
- Computer bookings will be cancelled if the customer does not attend their booking within 15 minutes of the starting time.

Disclaimer

The library service does not filter and has no control over information accessed via the Internet and therefore cannot guarantee the reliability, accuracy, currency or appropriateness of the information retrieved.

Parents should supervise children's use of the internet at all times. Refer to "Parents Guide to the Internet" for more details.

Material downloaded from the Internet may contain viruses.

Frankston Library Service accepts no responsibility for any damage caused as a result of downloaded viruses or software.

