

Community Connector Program

Helping you join local activities

opportunity » growth » lifestyle

Want to join a new social activity but not sure how? This free and confidential service helps people connect with the local community through fun and exciting activities.

What is the Community Connector Program?

Frankston City Council's Community Connector program can help residents find activities within the local community that interest them and assist them with the process of joining.

Community Connectors can contact activity coordinators on your behalf and they can attend a new activity or group with you until you settle in and feel comfortable to attend on your own.

They help connect you to activities, creating a greater sense of community and providing valuable social interaction for our residents.

Who is this for?

Anyone who is over the age of 60 or caring for someone over the age of 60 who is interested in finding out what activities are available in their community.

Activities

Some of the activities and groups that a Community Connector can help you become involved with can include:

- Exercise classes
- Computer classes
- Friendship groups
- Craft Groups
- Seniors Clubs
- Volunteering
- And much, much more.
