

The Young Street Action Plan is one of several initiatives Council is undertaking to transform Frankston's city centre.

We're also working with the state and federal government to deliver the Nepean Boulevard Revitalisation Project, which aims to reimagine the Nepean Highway into a people centric boulevard of housing, hospitality and retail opportunities.

For more information on this and other initiatives, visit frankston.vic.gov.au

Trader Support Directory

A quick reference guide to local resources for Frankston
City businesses

Frankston City Council is implementing a long-term action plan for the Frankston Station and Young Street Precinct. Our Young Street Action Plan spans property development, business and street presentation, city connectivity, public safety and community health and wellbeing.

We can all work together to achieve these goals. As a local business owner, you provide vital points of connection for our community and contribute to Frankston City's character, economy and liveability.

As a local business owner, Council is committed to helping you continue to work and thrive in Frankston City. The Trader Support Directory is designed to provide a quick and easy guide for you to access any supports and services you may need to achieve this goal.

Types of local resources available to your business

Within this brochure, you will find colour coded resources under the following categories:

Community safety

Community support

Business support

Victoria Police

When to reach out

Frankston Police's regular foot patrols provide a visible presence throughout the city centre and the Protective Service Officers (PSOs) provide a reassuring presence around Frankston Station.

Examples where Victoria Police can help include:

- criminal activity (e.g. theft, criminal damage, violence)
- threatening behaviour
- emergencies or life-threatening incidents.

How to get in touch

Emergencies

Phone Triple Zero (000)

Non-emergencies

Phone the Police Assistance Line on 131 444

Report anonymously

Phone Crime Stoppers on 1800 333 000

What happens next?

Victoria police assess each report. Responses may include attending the scene, follow up by phone or email and coordinating with other services. Police conduct regular patrols and work proactively to address community safety issues. Victoria Police will keep you informed about how the investigation of your case is going.

Frankston City Council Safer City Patrol

When to reach out

Council's Safer City Patrol provides a visible presence throughout the municipality, focussing on proactive patrols and providing a quick response to issues falling under Council's Local Laws. By working closely with local businesses and the community, they support fair use of public space and promote positive behaviours in our municipality.

Local Laws breaches that our Safer City Patrol team responds to, if it's safe to do so, include:

- public consumption of alcohol and open containers
- smoking/vaping in designated smoke free areas
- graffiti currently occurring or minors purchasing spray paint products
- excessive noise or nuisance from buskers
- unsightly and derelict properties
- footpath trading: furniture and signage blocking footpaths and walkways
- offensive behaviour and obstruction of footpaths.

How to get in touch

Phone 1300 322 322

Email info@frankston.vic.gov.au

Visit frankston.vic.gov.au/Council/Report-an-issue

Download the Snap Send Solve app

What happens next?

The Safer City Patrol will investigate the issue. Where appropriate, the officer will contact the trader to gather more information and keep them informed of the outcome of the investigation. When addressing ongoing issues, Safer City Patrol will incorporate the area into their regular proactive patrols of the city centre.

Community Connectors

What they do

Community Connectors build trusted relationships with vulnerable individuals in the city centre, offering support and linking them to services like housing, health care, and food relief. By engaging early and often, they help reduce crisis situations and contribute to a safer, more inclusive community environment for everyone. This is a service delivered by South East Community Links and has been funded through partnerships between Council, Metro Trains and Vicinity Centres.

The Community Connectors are there for:

- homelessness support
- mental health concerns
- anti-social behaviour (when safe/non-criminal)
- substance misuse (when safe).

How to get in touch

The Connectors in their bright purple vests are easy to spot in the Young Street and Station Street areas, so please talk to them directly any time.

Email ccteam@secl.org.au

Phone 9546 5255
(Monday to Friday, 1–5pm)

Visit secl.org.au

What happens next?

Operating hours:

- Tuesdays and Thursdays: 8am–2pm
- Mondays and Fridays: 12–4pm
- Wednesdays: 1–5pm

Once a day the Community Connectors will review emails received (it is for sharing information, not for an urgent response). Where possible, Connectors will follow up directly or refer to a service that can assist. If appropriate, and if the individual is still present, they will make contact to assess needs and offer support.

NB: Community Connectors are a triage and referral service only – they do not offer long-term case management or ongoing support.

Frankston City Council Youth Service Project-Y

What they do

Project-Y is a collaborative of youth service providers working together to connect with and support young people aged 12 to 24 years who may be disengaged from education and employment. Outreach is delivered twice per week and provides youth with wraparound support, positive community connections and guidance to help them to pursue their passions and aspirations.

How to get in touch

Email youthservices@frankston.vic.gov.au

Phone 9768 1366

What happens next?

We encourage traders to promote Youth Services space (near Frankston library) to young people to access snacks, pool table and gaming. Open Monday to Friday 9am–5pm.

For traders seeking support or information, please call Youth Services Monday to Friday 9am–5pm on 9768 1366. We'll respond to the best of our ability. We'll provide direct assistance or offer referrals and information when we can't personally attend to the specific needs.

Frankston City Libraries

When to reach out

If someone in the vicinity of your business or a regular customer is experiencing difficulty, Monash University Social Work Clinic offers free services from the Frankston Library on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9.30am–3.30pm, and Wednesdays from 9.30am–2pm.

The clinic is staffed by Monash University postgraduate social work students, with all participating students being supervised by qualified and experienced social worker practitioners. Students are equipped to provide counselling, emotional support, work with people experiencing stressful life situations to develop skills and access resources.

Tackling graffiti

Our City Presentation team is responsible for daily footpath and street sweeping, graffiti removal and frequent litter collection, weekends included.

Graffiti can be reported to the correct authority via the QR code below.

Council is also trialling two graffiti management initiatives:

- a $500 reward for residents who report graffiti that leads to a guilty finding
- free graffiti removal kits for residents.

For more information scan the QR code.
